University Color Palette

The university has both a primary and an extended color palette. The primary color palette should be used predominantly on printed materials, while the extended color palette may be used sparingly to complement the primary palette.

App State gold is the main identifying color of the university; it is suggested that at least 10% of this color be used in all materials.

Usage Guidelines

- Best practice: use at least 10% of App State gold in all designs.
- Use proper color breakdowns for specific applications.
- Primary colors should be used as the main colors in designs.
- Colors from the extended color palette may be used for accents, using only 10%-100% tint.
- Text and background color contrast must meet the guidelines for web and digital design.
